Format: This class will combine lecture and seminar formats; student participation is encouraged. PCC courses include small group discussions which require participants to read and synthesize the materials presented. PCC faculty ensure that gaps in knowledge are addressed. This course will meet by Zoom.

Description: This course will focus on the therapist's conscious and unconscious reactions to their patients and how they can best be worked with and understood. We will cover concepts of repeating, acting out, countertransference, projective identification, and enactment. Presentation of clinical material by participants will be essential for the success of this course.
